

MEDLEX

Where Medicine Meets Justice

MEDLEX

THE PROSPECTUS · 2026–27

Three pathways. One standard.

Professional education for psychiatrists, psychologists, clinicians and legal professionals — writing for courts, passing the CASC, and leading beyond the clinic.

MEDICO-LEGAL EDUCATION

THE CASC ACADEMY

MEDLEX FOUNDATIONS

The skills that define a career are rarely taught. MedLex teaches them.

MedLex is a specialist professional education and training company at the intersection of medicine, law and institutional practice.

It exists because the skills that matter most in a clinical career are rarely taught in a structured way: writing an opinion that survives cross-examination, performing under observation in an examination, and leading a service rather than simply running one.

Every programme is written and taught by the founder, a UK-trained Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist still in practice — not licensed content, not franchised trainers — and every programme is built to one standard: a defined question, documented reasoning, and a method you can defend afterwards.

Three pathways

01

Medico-Legal Education

Writing and testing psychiatric evidence. For psychiatrists, psychologists and legal professionals.

Page 4

02

The CASC Academy

Preparation for the MRCPsych CASC, from the examiner's side of the table.

Page 6

03

MedLex Foundations

The non-clinical skills every doctor is expected to have, and almost no one is taught.

Page 8

And for institutions

Training, policy and advisory for courts, ministries, health authorities and legal bodies.

Page 10

Find your pathway

Most people come to MedLex with one situation in mind. Find the sentence closest to yours, and turn to the page beside it.

"I have been asked to write a report for a court — and I want it to hold."

Medico-Legal Education

4

"I read psychiatric reports as a lawyer, prosecutor or judge, and need to test them."

Medico-Legal Education

4

"I am sitting the CASC, and reading has stopped helping."

The CASC Academy

6

"I am good with patients. It is everything else I was never taught."

The Clinician's Edge

8

"I lead a team or a service, or I am about to."

Clinical Leadership Programme

9

"I work in a court, prosecution service, ministry or hospital."

Institutional work

10

Not sure?

Start with the free guide on the pathway closest to you. Each one is short, practical, and gives a clear sense of how that pathway teaches.

One pathway, or more

The pathways are independent. Many clinicians begin in one and later take a programme in another as their career moves.

Medico-Legal Education

Where medicine is asked to answer to the court.

Most psychiatric reports entering court were never written for court. This pathway closes that gap — from both ends.

The method is deliberately unglamorous: defined questions, documented reasoning, traceable sources, and conclusions stated at the confidence the evidence supports. That structure is what makes an opinion admissible — and what protects the clinician who signed it.

Who it is for

- Psychiatrists receiving legal referrals
- Psychologists in court-directed assessment
- Trainees building forensic competence early
- Legal professionals reading and testing psychiatric evidence

Four ways in. Start wherever you need to.

Each format stands on its own. There are no prerequisites and no fixed order — choose what matches the gap you actually have.

Masterclass

A single session, 3–6 hours

One question a court asks, and the reasoning behind a defensible answer. The quickest way to close one specific gap. 14 designed.

Workshop series

4–6 sessions, 10–14 hours

A full practical skill, built around one simulated case, with work produced between sessions and reviewed in the next.

Programme

3 months, blended

Structured competence across the field — assessment, formulation, report writing and giving evidence — with supervision and assessed work.

Certification

12 months

For practitioners who want assessed, documented competence: supervised casework, assessed reports and a portfolio of practice.

Live, interactive and online · English and Arabic, each written natively · for clinical and legal audiences.

Writing Psychiatric Evidence

Eight modules across two live teaching days, separated by a two-week practical assignment. You leave having written a complete psychiatric medico-legal report.

- One case, start to finish. The programme works on a single simulated case file, MLC-100, with eight professionally developed documents.
- Applied, not theoretical. From analysing the case material to writing the report, with a structured professional method.
- Everything you need. Report-writing checklist, pre-course reading, session summaries, assignments, self-assessment tools and a model report.
- English and Arabic, each written natively.

For clinicians

Answer the legal question as a clinician: what the court is asking, what the evidence supports, how to write it so it survives challenge, and how to give it in the witness box.

For legal professionals

Read a psychiatric report critically: what a sound opinion looks like, where reports fail, how to instruct an expert well, and how to test the evidence.

FREE GUIDE

Ten Reasons Psychiatric Reports Fail in Court

The ten most common mistakes that stop a good clinical report from being useful in court — and what to do differently.

Get the guide and join the waitlist

The CASC Academy

Learn the CASC from the examiner's side of the table.

An online CASC preparation course, built by a former examiner.

43 interactive stations, each shown failed two ways and passed once, with the examiner's reasoning at every decision — plus a 12-week workbook, a practice group and 6 months' access.

The CASC is a performance examination. It tests what you say, under time, in front of someone who is marking you. Most candidates who fail have already read enough.

How it works

1 Enrol

6 months' access on phone, tablet or laptop. All 43 stations open from the first login.

2 Work the stations

About 45 minutes each in Learn Mode, then a timed 7-minute Exam Mode.

3 Practise together

Every station ends with cards for a three-person practice session.

12 Weeks to the CASC Workbook — included, and guides you through all three steps, week by week.

What you get

The station library

43 stations across 8 domains, each with two failing takes, a pass, the examiner's reasoning and 7 decisions.

The workbook

Four routes depending on the weeks you have, weekly planners, a station log and a chapter for resitting.

The candidates' group

A WhatsApp group to find two colleagues free on the same evening — the problem that actually stops practice.

The examiner's notes

Short emails through your preparation, and a certificate of completion when you finish.

How a station works

- 1 The trap, named
What the station is really testing, and the two ways good candidates get it wrong.
- 2 Two failures, one pass
The same consultation three times. The second failure is the kind one — and worse.
- 3 The examiner's reasoning
Tap the gold circles to read what the examiner is thinking, as it happens.
- 4 Seven decisions
You are in the chair. Choose, read the response, try again.
- 5 Exam Mode, then the cards
Seven minutes, timed, on a patient you have not met — then practise with colleagues.

THE EXAMINER'S QUESTION

“Would I be confident to have this candidate as my registrar? That is the question behind every mark.”

Who it is for

MRCPsych CASC candidates, first attempt or resitting — and candidates for other observed psychiatry examinations, including the Arab Board and national OSCEs.

Not for anyone looking for model answers to memorise.

Eight domains. Forty-three stations.

1 Communication & Rapport

2 Information Giving

3 Risk Assessment

4 Mental State Examination

5 Capacity, Consent & the Law

6 Management & Emergencies

7 Difficult Conversations

8 Physical Examination

FREE

Try a station, and get the Examiner's Briefing

Station 7.2 is open to anyone, no login. The Briefing explains how the CASC is actually marked.

Try a station free, or enrol

MedLex Foundations

Clinical training makes a doctor. It does not make a career.

Professional development for doctors beyond clinical training: how the system works, how to lead, and how to protect your career — the skills every clinician is expected to have, and almost no one is taught.

The Clinician's Edge

The first course. Online and self-paced, in English: short video lessons, interactive pages, and a workbook with every module.

8 modules. 8 skills you will use.

01 How the System Works

Walk into any department and understand how it runs.

02 Communication at Work

Communicate with the clarity colleagues expect.

03 Audit & Quality Improvement

Take part in audit and QI with real understanding.

04 Research

Discuss a paper and find a route onto a project.

05 Teaching, Supervision & Feedback

Teach and supervise in a way that is noticed.

06 Management & Leadership Basics

Step into team situations with confidence.

07 Portfolio, Appraisal & Revalidation

Know what to collect, from the first day.

08 Preparing for an Internal Investigation

Understand the process and protect yourself.

What you get

Workbook & toolkit

Yours to keep

The Foundations group

Doctors across the UK, the Gulf and Egypt

Weekly insight emails

One topic a week from the founder

Certificate

On completing the 8 modules

Clinical Leadership Programme

COMING SOON

For clinicians already leading — or about to lead — a team, a unit or a service.

6 modules delivered in person over consecutive days, in Arabic or English depending on where the cohort runs, with your own workbook and exercises built around real service decisions.

- Leading colleagues who were your peers
- Running a meeting that reaches a decision
- Managing performance and conflict
- Reading your service's numbers
- Representing your team upward without losing its trust

AI for Clinicians

COMING SOON

What AI can and cannot do in clinical and professional work, how to use it safely and well, and where the professional and medico-legal lines sit.

Practical rather than technical, and built for clinical settings. Details go to the Foundations waitlist first.

FREE GUIDE

What the Panel Is Really Asking

Interview skills, and the 10 questions every clinician must prepare — what each question is really testing, and the trap behind it.

Get the guide and join the waitlist

We build the capacity. Your institution keeps the work.

MedLex works with courts, ministries, health authorities and legal bodies on training, policy and advisory. Our role is to build your capability; the casework, and the opinion, remain yours.

Training

Programmes designed for your teams, in Arabic or English — from writing and testing psychiatric evidence to the professional skills senior clinicians are expected to have.

Policy and governance

Standards for commissioning and quality-checking reports, record-keeping, detention and incident-review governance, competency frameworks.

Advisory

A consultant in the room with your team on a difficult case — helping them reason it through and test their own opinion.

We never:

- × assess patients, defendants or claimants
- × write or co-sign psychiatric or medico-legal reports
- × give evidence in any proceedings
- × appear before a court, tribunal or prosecutor
- × attach our name to any opinion used in a case

DELIVERED

Public prosecutors, Egypt — interviewing children

Dr Ahmed Abouelghit (founder, MedLex) designed and delivered a structured training programme for public prosecutors, in partnership with UNICEF Egypt — in Arabic, across multiple cohorts.

Make an enquiry

Programmes typically 2–8 weeks; governance projects 4–12 weeks; standing advisory by agreement. Contracts with MedLex for Training and Consultancy LLC.

THE FOUNDER

Dr Ahmed Abouelghit

UK-trained Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist

His practice spans forensic psychiatry, medico-legal reporting, Mental Health Tribunals, court and Parole Board work — alongside directing specialist training and leading clinical services across the United Kingdom, Egypt and Qatar.

He is formerly an examiner for the Royal College of Psychiatrists' CASC.

Every programme in the MedLex prospectus is written and taught by him. That is the whole proposition: not a syllabus assembled from a distance, but the situations he has faced himself — in the witness box, in the examination hall, and in the service meeting.

THE MANDATE

To establish forensic and medico-legal psychiatry as a recognised discipline in the region — and to bring its standard to the rest of a clinical career.

Method before conclusion

A defined question, documented reasoning, a defensible answer.

Legal alignment

The founding discipline, and the standard for everything else.

Professional protection

Reasoning that holds when it is challenged.

Regional relevance

International standards, local practice.

“No one fails at this because they are not clever enough. They fail because no one ever sat them down and explained how the job actually works.”

DR AHMED ABOUELGHIT

UK

Consultant training in forensic psychiatry

3

Countries of practice: UK, Egypt, Qatar

Courts

Tribunals, Crown Court and Parole Board

Training

Programme director for specialist training

NEXT STEPS

Scan, and start with yours.

Each pathway page holds a free guide, the latest dates, and the next step — enrol, join a waitlist, or make an enquiry.

Medico-Legal Education

Free guide · waitlist

The CASC Academy

Free station · enrol

MedLex Foundations

Free guide · waitlist

For institutions

Training · policy · advisory

Everything else

medlexsolutions.com

MEDLEX

Where Medicine Meets Justice

info@medlexsolutions.com · medlexsolutions.com

MedLex for Training and Consultancy LLC, trading as MedLex Solutions

5 El-Fadl Street, Abdeen, Cairo, Egypt